

Adrese

THE AMERICAN SOCIAL ORDER AND ITS CULTURE: ASPECTS OF HIGH AND POPULAR CULTURE

(Dubrovnik, October 25 - November 4 1982)

LIST OF PARTICIPANTS

A. Sonja BAŠIĆ, associate professor

English Department

Filozofski fakultet, Zagreb.

Special field: modern American literature; fiction theory.

BA and PhD (1964) Zagreb University.

Visiting scholar Columbia University (1965), Yale University (1976/77)

Published mainly in the field of modern American literature, (James, Faulkner and numerous other modern and contemporary novelists and poets). Secretary and member of editorial board of "Književna smotra", a quarterly of world literature.

Željko BUJAS is a full professor in the English Department,
Zagreb University, and a member of staff of the just established
American Studies Program there.

He has a degree in English and Russian, as well as a doctorate in linguistics, from Zagreb University. He currently teaches undergraduate courses on American Society, American English and English Lexicology. He also teaches a graduate course on the Quantitative Structure of the English Lexis.

Rudolf FILIPOVIĆ, professor of English, director of the Institute of Linguistics. He teaches undergraduate courses on Phonology, Languages in Contact and Semantics. He also teaches two graduate courses: 1. American Linguistics; 2. The Theory of Languages in Contact. He is director of three projects in the Institute of Linguistics: 1. Contrastive Analysis of Serbo-Croatian and English;
2. The English Element in European Languages; 3. Yugoslav Dialects
in the United States.

Address: English Department, Zagreb University
Dure Salaja 3, 41000 Zagreb

Darko GLAVAN, graduated in history of art from the University of Zagreb. He is active as a journalist writing mainly about rock music, comics and other kinds of mass media and visual arts.
He wrote two books about pop music and is a co-author of a sociological project examining visitors to Yugoslav rock concerts.
Address: Muzej "Topić-Mimara", Zagreb, Jezuitski trg 4 or Hercegovska
135, Zagreb

Omer HADŽISELIMOVIĆ, associate professor

English Department, Faculty of Philosophy,
University of Sarajevo

Račkog 1

71000 Sarajevo

Teaches.: English and American Social and Cultural History

Main interest: American Studies

Degrees: B.A. University of Sarajevo; M.A. Oberlin College

Ph.D. University of Sarajevo

1401 E. Skyline Drive - 2 -
Madison, Wisc. 53705
(608) 233-8091

Hendrik HARTOG, assistant professor of Law and American Studies, Indiana University (Bloomington). Visiting professor, 1982-3, University of Wisconsin Law School. Education: A.B. Carleton College; J.D. New York University; M.A., Ph.D. Brandeis University. Books: Public Property and Private Power; New York City in American Law, 1730-1870 (in press); ed., Law in the American Revolution and the Revolution in the Law (1981). Subjects: American Legal History, Urban History, Local Government Law, Property Law.

Daniel WALKER HOWE is Professor of History and Vice Chairman of the Department of History at the University of California, Los Angeles. He is the author of The Unitarian Conscience (Harvard University Press, 1970), The Political Culture of the American Whigs (University of Chicago Press, 1979), The American Whigs: An Anthology (John Wiley, 1973) and Victorian America (University of Pennsylvania Press, 1976). He was educated at Harvard (A.B., 1959), Oxford (M.A., 1962), and the University of California, Berkeley (Ph.D., 1966). He has taught at UCLA for 9 years (1973-82) and at Yale for 7 years before that (1966-73).

Cynthia KINNARD teaches American literature courses, especially in the period 1865-1914. She also teaches women's studies courses such as women in contemporary American society, women and literature, and the woman artist. She has recently completed essays on Kate Chopin and on Joyce Carol Oates and is working on a book length bibliography of Antifeminism in America, colonial times to the present. English Department, Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana, 47405, USA

Dragan KLAIC, graduated in dramaturgy in Belgrade, doctorate in Drama Literature and Theatre Criticism at Yale. Teaches History of Foreign Drama and Theatre at the Faculty of Dramatic Arts, University of Arts, Belgrade. Special interests: Sociology of Theatre and Drama, Genre Problems, Modern Performance Theory. Address: FDU, Ho Ši Mina 20, 11070 Belgrade, phone 011-137841 /35684

Aleksandra - Sanja LAZAREVIĆ is a head of the Department of non-European cultures in the Ethnographic Museum in Zagreb. She wrote the first doctoral thesis in non-European ethnology in Yugoslavia. She teaches a course on Cultural Anthropology in the graduate school of Biological Anthropology. She is the author of several articles on non-European ethnology and museology.

Christoph LOHMANN, Ph.D. University of Pennsylvania (1968) in American Civilization, teaches undergraduate and graduate courses in American literature and culture, especially of the period 1865-1914. He has published articles on Hawthorne, James, and E.L. Doctorow and is co-editor of six volumes of W.D. Howells: Selected Letters (1979-)

Walter MESERVE A.B., M.A., Ph.D. Professor, Theatre and Drama Assoc. Dean, Research and Graduate Development B. Portland, Main, 1923; A.B. Bates College, 1947; M.A. Boston Univ., 1948; Ph.D., Univ. of Washington, 1952.

Teaching: Univ. of Kansas 1951-67; Manchester Univ. (England) 1959-60 (Visiting Lectureship); Univ. of California at Santra Barbara, 1967-68; Indiana University, 1968 - present.

Books Published (Selected List)

Ed., The Complete Plays of W.D. Howells, 1960; An Outline History of American Drama, 1965; Robert Sherwood: Reluctant Moralist, 1970; Co-editor, Modern Drama from Communist China, 1970; An Emerging Entertainment: The Drama of the American People to 1828, 1977.

Member of following: American Society for Theatre Research, American Theatre Association, Authors Guild

Director of Institute for American Theatre Studies

Field: American Drama and Theatre

Asian Drama and Theatre

Zvonimir RADELJKOVIĆ is an Associate Professor of English and American Literature of the Department of English, University of Sarajevo. He graduated in English from the University of Sarajevo, 1967. He got his M.A. at Indiana University in 1969, and Ph.D. at the University of Sarajevo 1975. He was Fellow of the American Council of the Learned Society 1977/78. His main publications are: "Ka američkoj književnoj tradiciji, H.D. Thoreau" (Towards American Literary Tradition, H.S. Thoreau), Sarajevo 1980. His book on Hemingway is to appear in 1983.

Stephen J. STEIN, Professor and Director of American Studies, Department of Religious Studies, Indiana University

The history of religious life and thought in America with special research interests in eighteenth-century materials (particularly the work of Jonathan Edwards) and teaching interests in American sectarian traditions.

Olga SUPEK ZUPAN graduated in ethnology from the University of Zagreb. Received M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in anthropology from the University of Michigan. She works at the Institute of Folklore Research in Zagreb. Her major interests are cultur change, symbolic culture and exchange. She has published articles dealing with above subjects.

Address: Institute of Folklore Research

Socijalističke revolucije 17/IV, 41000 Zagreb

Ivo VIDAN, Professor of English and American Literature, University of Zagreb. Three books on Modern and Comparative Literature in Croatian; about twenty articles on English and American writing in English. Ph.D. from Nottingham (England). Has lectured and taught on several occasions in the USA; has also lectured in Britain and other European countries.